ABSTRACT

This selected bibliography of resources on gerontology, reflecting the holdings of the Western Kentucky University Libraries, is divided into five sections: (1) books and monographs; (2) educational resources center; (3) government documents; (4) microfilms; and (5) periodicals. The table of contents contains an alphabetical listing of all Library of Congress Subject Headings used in the compilation of each section. Topics included focus on the status of older adults in several states and countries, adult education, health, leisure, housing, retirement, employment, nursing homes, social services, geriatrics, social isolation, and terminal illness. An update of recent gerontology acquisitions is appended. (JAC)

PREFACE

This selected bibliography of resources on gerontology reflects the holdings of the Western Kentucky University Libraries. Because of the increasingly widespread interest in gerontological studies this bibliography will be useful not only to members of the University but also to the local community.

This listing is divided into five sections: Books and Monographs, Educational Resources Center, Government Documents, Microforms, and Periodicals. All sections, except Books and Monographs, are preceded by brief explanatory notes.

The Table of Contents, which precedes the Books and Monographs section, is an alphabetical listing of all Library of Congress Subject Headings used in the compilation of that section. Citations in the Books and Monographs section are primarily from the subject catalog of the Libraries' holdings. In addition to cataloged material, there exist uncataloged monographs published by the Rand Corporation, a non profit research institution. These have been included with their appropriate item numbers and are located on the second floor of the Helm Library.

In addition to bibliographic information, each book citation includes the library call number and the six-digit document number. Books and Monographs which contain limited information on the aged (less than twenty pages) have been excluded. Chapters or sections within books of an otherwise general subject nature have been included with an asterisk (*) indicating the specific chapter or section number. The final date for inclusion of cataloged material from the book collection was May 1980.

This bibliography has been compiled through the efforts of several individuals, especially Cheryl Hornung, Janet McMurtrey, and Janet Watwood, who helped with the laborious task of maintaining the card file from which this listing was compiled; Susan Tucker and Helen Knight for their typing and proofreading services; Tom Foster for the cover design; and finally, the Faculty Research Committee for providing the funds for the completion of this project. A special thanks to Connie Foster for her patient editorial guidance.

MICROFORMS

Helm 2nd floor

Two important sources of information on aging are located in the microforms area--ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center) and SCAN (Service Center for Aging Information).

Documents processed by the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) clearinghouses are available on microfiche. The indexes and abstracts to the collection are in book form (also located in the Microforms Area). Data base descriptors are needed to access the material. The following list of descriptors is taken from the Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors (7th edition), and is intended as representative of the subject divisions available. The Microforms staff should be contacted for additional assistance. (Faculty and graduate students are eligible for batch-processed data searches through the Educational Resources Center in the College of Education Building. Contact Carolyn Boles, 745-4552, for information concerning this service.)
